Cobre High School

Bayard, New Mexico

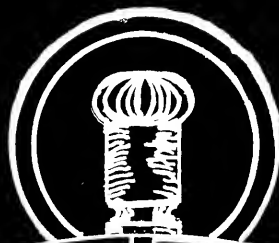

As Time Moves On

Though, not all students have the same interpretation of a good life, we have one common goal . . . the search for the best in our future. We begin this search through our education.

Cobre High School offers a step in preparation for the future. Our understanding for learning is set up in an academic system programmed to allow for excellence in education. School life provides many challenges: new teachers, new classmates, new desires, and new responsibilities, which bring hard work and frustrations, but also joy in achievement.

Students develop a desire for a goal, the acquisition of knowledge, and individual development and character. Working with each other, students share responsibilities as they participate in club projects and develop life-long friendships through these achievements in a common effort.

Time passes into the unknown future, but each will want to remember the unforgettable moments spent among friends and teachers, moments spent working on worthwhile and enjoyable activities: Activities with a challenge, a purpose and a goal. All this has been recaptured for you in the 1971 CHIEFTAIN.

A Sharp Focus, In The Course Of Our Time, To

A Very Dedicated Sponsor, Mrs. Catherine Smith

After overcoming difficult problems and challenges with courage and confidence, there will come a time when, we the students, have reached our ultimate goal.

We give credit to those who have guided us toward our ambitions. We give this recognition to honor our teachers; who are devoted to their work of helping others. They are ever ready and willing to help; giving their ideas or suggestions, always patient and encouraging with an optimistic voice. Their responsibilities are many. At all times striving for their prime goal of academic teaching, counseling students, giving instructions, attending meetings, participating in school and community projects, and guiding extracurricular activities. The greatest honor we can give to educators who have successfully helped enrich another person's life is to show our appreciation and respect for them in accordance to principles of high honor.

Because of her outstanding contributions to the students and the school we would like to in turn, dedicate to her the 1971 Chieftain,

We recognize and salute, MRS. CATHERINE SMITH.

Time Is Important To Cobre High School Students

Cobre students spend their time in many ways. A students' school day is spent in classes, in the halls, among friends, at club meetings or in study halls.

Mike Acosta uses his spare time on his Honda 350 as he takes a spin down the hill. There are many other boys that find enjoyment on their motorcycles. Trying to beat the tardy bell is Benny Norero, as he barely makes it to his sixth period class. For him it saves alot of explaining in trying to get an excuse. To some getting to the lunch line is a big concern in trying to be first, as Charlotte Sias, Bobby Medina and Eddie Tovar hurry to the cafeteria. For them it means extra time after lunch for other activities. Getting a drink of water between classes is very difficult because of the crowd, so Gilbert Guadiana, Paul Flores and Andy Gomez, take a few moments for a drink while halls are empty. Students in typing work hard so as not to get behind time. Determination and well-learned typing skills prepare students to accomplish a set goal in a limited period as Mr. Thompson gives a timewriting.

Club Banquets Conclude Extra Curricular Activities

Most clubs terminated their activities with varied style banquets including a cook-out, a masquerade party, and several pot-luck and semi-formal dinners.

Students Combine Learning Time With Enjoyment

Chris Moreland, David Omick, John Gibson, Mike Dunn and Earl Hunter make an ecological study of the population of plants in a certain area as a part of their biology course. The Cobre Indian Band marches in a local parade. Terry Valerio waits for the ball while playing a volleyball match. Evangeline Holguin and Beverly Lankford learn how computers used by large corporations function on their Day-On-The-Job experience. All these are examples of how learning is made more enjoyable by conducting activities outside the classroom.

Time Out For Christmas

In an effort to get the student body of Cobre in the spirit for Christmas, various activities were planned by the Presidents' Council. The first was construction of Christmas food baskets to be given to needy families in the community. Thirteen clubs participated. Prizes were given to clubs having the most original and prettiest baskets. Also taken into consideration was the quantity of food per members of the club.

The Council also sponsored door decorations. Each club was held responsible for decorating the doors of the club's sponsor.

Spanish Club met one night to decorate the halls with paper chains and holiday cards. They also set up luminarias outside the school.

Student Council held an assembly in which different clubs presented skits. The assembly was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus (Ernie Garcia and Liz Stewart). The band and chorus performed at the assembly.

NHS, Student Council Membership Find Time To Hold Talent

Show And Teacher Appreciation Week

Talent included musical selections by "The Singing Dominguez Sisters," "The Golden Gate," and the Cobre Stage Band. Master of Ceremonies for the event was Danny Bleok and talent coordinator was Andy Hunter. The approximate amount collected by the club for the scholarship was $170.

The Student Council held its annual Teacher Appreciation Week in May. During the week the Council members presented each teacher with small tokens of appreciation such as apples, cookies, name pins, flowers and by putting magazines in the teachers' lounges. The week was culminated by a tea in honor of all the teachers.

Time And Teamwork Are Important At Rowd-y-o

Among other projects sponsored by the Student Council for the enjoyment of the student body was the "Twirp Week" extravaganza. Monday was set aside as "Injun Day." On Tuesday "Teacher Day," students dressed to look like their favorite teacher and teachers dressed like their favorite students. Wednesday was "Dress-Up Day." Thursday students wore their clothes inside out accompanied by a bonnet. The week was summarized by "Sadie Hawkins Day." Each day judges selected outstandingly dressed individuals. The boy and girl chosen each day were named "Twirps of the Day." At the Rowd-y-o held on Friday, a committee selected Rosemary Quintana and Panchita Gonzales as "Twirps of the Week." Their court consisted of Oscar Dominguez, Natalie Saborio, Xavier Acosta, Pete Salcido, Rachel Maez, Rufina Telles, Raul Carreon and Rosie Pena.

The Rowd-y-o contests were the egg toss, tug-of-war, centipede race, and branding.

Robert Quintana models his "Teacher Day" clothes while Rosie Pena was caught by surprise on "Inside-Out Day." Chris Moreland, Mr. Cosgrove and Mr. Benavidez wait as Mr. Maldonado ties Raul Carreon's hands for the branding contest. Margaret Cloudt charges while Ruth Meredith brings down Danny Bleak and Mr. Hornbaker times Margaret Maners, Connie McCauley and Ricky Shonks in the branding contest.

Activity Life Employs Students' Time On The Road

Students take time to go on club sponsored trips throughout the year. Several miles of travel with friends, seeing places and meeting people are all part of the experiences on the road.

Learning about IBM and other business machines was the purpose of the FSA trip to El Paso. Catching the bus early in the morning and spending the entire day at NMSU, gave Liz Stewart and Mary Helen Garcia reason to take the long nap home. Several people took time out to go and meet the District Baseball Champions as they came home from Los Lunas. Mike Acosta and Franklin Smith were among the crowd waiting for the team to arrive. Long hours of practice and determination prove to be rewarding for track athletes, as they pack up and check equipment to attend the State Track Meet in Albuquerque.

Timely Moments In The Life Of Cobre Students

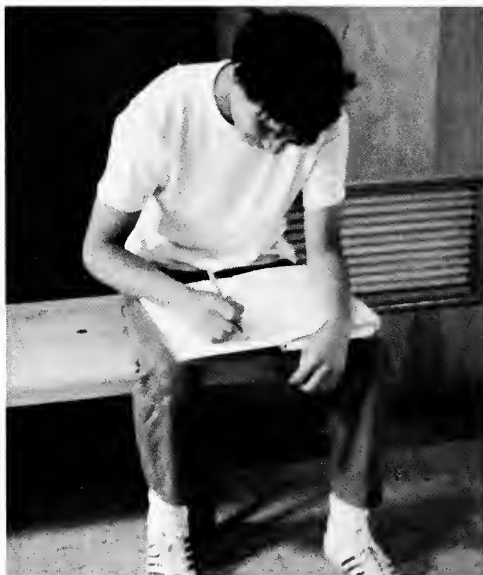

Life at Cobre is anything but dull. With school and club sponsored activities a student's school day will continue long after the dismissal bell.

The End Of School Is A Busy Time For Everyone

The last days of school are always hectic ones. George Duarte signs a senior memory book and Guadalupe Cordova, Gilbert Quintana and Bobby Salas sweep up trash after a locker clean-up. Carney Foy and Tony Udero take final exams in their English class. Mrs. Smith checks final layout sheets in order to ship the yearbook to Montgomery, Alabama for publishing as Rosemary Grijalva looks on. Mr. Moore along with other teachers records semester grades.

Careful record keeping makes these a scientific project which will aid future farm operators.

Field trips to actually see welders in construction and other industry are fundamental to shop class instruction. Seeing journeymen welders on the job helps students to see the quality of workmanship required by employers.

Helping students learn elements in design is one of the purposes of Drawing and Design. Students are shown how to balance drawings. By learning elements in design members of this class can work with abstract forms, colors, and lines.

Driver's Education, a course demanded by many students is taught by Mr. Abe Armendariz. In Driver's Education 30 hours of classroom instruction and 6 hours are actually spent driving in which the six hours of behind the wheel are taken care of. Statistics show that even though some Drivers' Education students are involved in accidents, there is a comparison of other Drivers' Education students the same age which are safer, more courteous, and have more responsibilities.

Students drive to Silver City and back for their driving experience. When not driving students are in study hall or in an activity class.

"Many classes at Cobre are vocationally oriented, but not many classes are preparations for the job itself," stated Dr. David L. Walker, superintendent of Cobre Schools. Secretarial Science, one of the vocational classes, needs to be extended. Dr. Walker said that more experience is needed with modern office machines and on-the-job practice. A course in data processing, an extension of Secretarial Science, would be a good vocation class; it is one plan of the school board. Dr. Walker feels that Vocational Agriculture is a good vocational class, but that more emphasis is needed in agriculture economics. "In the future," he added, "we plan for a more highly experienced course in Vocational Nursing which might include Operating Room Technician."

The Cobre School Board is the governing body for the school system and determines policies for the operation of the school program. The school board consists of five members: Mr. William Frazier, president; Mr. C. C. Bassett, vice-president; Mr. Sam Grijalva, secretary; Mr. Mace Parra and Mr. Ralph Saenz, members. The school board is elected directly by the people. They meet on a monthly basis in the superintendent's office to discuss any important school matters or suggestions.

Students Practice Two Modern Foreign Languages

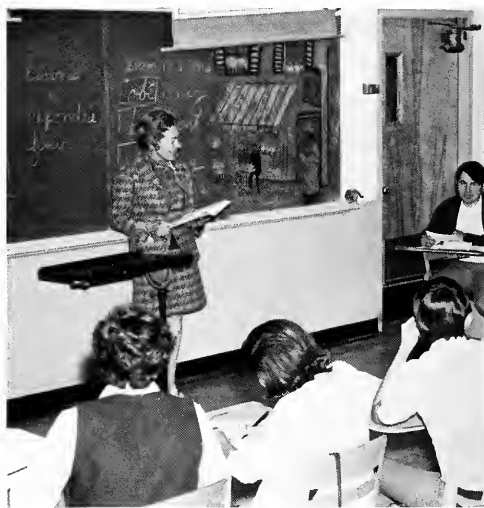

The French and Spanish classes were turned to a new time. New books were the main attractions around the foreign language department. Students worked on dialogues, dictations, reading and oral participation, through audio tapes and films. Students then listen to French and Spanish records for enjoyment. Each school year, approximately 108,000 meals are served to the students in Cobre High by the cafeteria staff. The meals are hot, and well-balanced. The menu must be approved by the State Department of Education.

Cobre is one of many schools welcoming student teachers every semester from Western New Mexico University. These university students teach or observe classes each day and help teachers with activities. At times they are substitute teachers. These student teachers must have the ability to co-ordinate class-work present instructions effectively and elicit class responses.

A majority of 3000 students in the Cobre Consolidated School District depend upon school bus drivers for their transportation to and from school. In addition to regular school transportation, drivers transport students to extra-curricular activities held throughout the 3AAA District; this includes trips for football, basketball, chorus, band, baseball, tennis, wrestling, track, Girls Athletic Association, vocational nursing and Pep Club.

Teachers and students depend on the janitors and student janitors to keep the school in uniform condition.

Cobre has four janitors. Jack Martinez, head custodian; Sal Armijo, Joe Roper and Zeke Santamaria, custodians, are busy from 7 o'clock in the morning until midnight cleaning and replacing windows, sweeping, mowing the lawn, cleaning and repairing items, and setting up for activities. Four student janitors are responsible for cleaning classrooms and other areas every evening.

The council also sponsored buses for students to attend two out-of-town football games. Homecoming activities followed with the spirit chain contest, and a dance. Before the Cabre-Silver game, tombstones were made for the Colt team, a paster party along with tootsie-roll pop days helped boost school spirit. The highlight of the game was receiving the traveling trophy from Silver. The Christmas functions terminated 1970's school fun and activities for the club.

District meetings were held in Deming and Tularosa. The council was responsible for a district project where $137 was raised for the mentally retarded. The State Convention held in Tucumcari had a delegation of nine members attending. The year came to a close with Teacher Appreciation Week, elections and twirp week. "Los Amigos" Spanish Club Hosts Timely Menudo

"The Spanish Club, true to form, started off the year with the biggest, most hilarious initiation party ever," stated Mrs. Serna, club sponsor. Then they continued their activities by selling menudo during the district basketball tournaments, set glowing luminarias around the high school sidewalks, decorated the halls with streamers made of Christmas cards and held a tamale party afterwards. Members sold pop-sicles and donuts at noon and raffled off 100 gallons of gas. For their last activity of the year, they held a sock-hop in the auditorium with the music by Starliners. There were prizes and games in which all the student body participated.

The club ended the year with their annual banquet and dance party held at the Town House Hotel in Silver City. At this time they awarded their club scholarship to a deserving senior who is planning to attend college and major in Spanish. FFA Members Attend State Fair In Albuquerque

FFA is a club organized for boys interested in agriculture. This year the boys participated in many activities and attended many fairs. Members attended a fair in El Paso where they entered nine head of lambs for livestock showing. In the individual judging David McCauley took fifth. The judging team, composed of four FFA members, took sixth out of 85 teams. Members then attended the fair held in Las Cruces. Donald Pena, Billy Frost, and David McCauley took fourth in state for dairy judging. The livestock judging team took thirteenth in state. The year would not have been complete without the crowning of the FFA Sweetheart. The boys chose three girls to compete for sweetheart and of these girls the one making the most money won.

Juniors Spend Long Hours On Prom Decorations

Class of '72 worked long hours on prom decorations to achieve their theme, "The Lost Continent of Atlantis." Gloria Rodriguez, Dolores Maldonado, Helen Rias, Stella Orosco paint the sunken ship which was used as the centerpiece. Early preparations were made by Ray Delgado, Robert Dominguez, Milly Espinosa, Tony Udera and Mary Esther Trujillo as they cleaned the flats for the prom. Draping streamers took long hours and the help of many. Carney Foy and Pat Foy were part of the crew that worked on the ceiling. A treasure chest was made for the entrance; working on it is Mike Acosta, while Skip Walker, class-president, sets up columns on stage.

Jim Bassett and Regina McSherry, two of the many guests at the Junior-Senior Prom, listen to the band: Storm.

Several of the couples relax between dances.

Dickie And Evangeline Take Time To Rule Atlantis

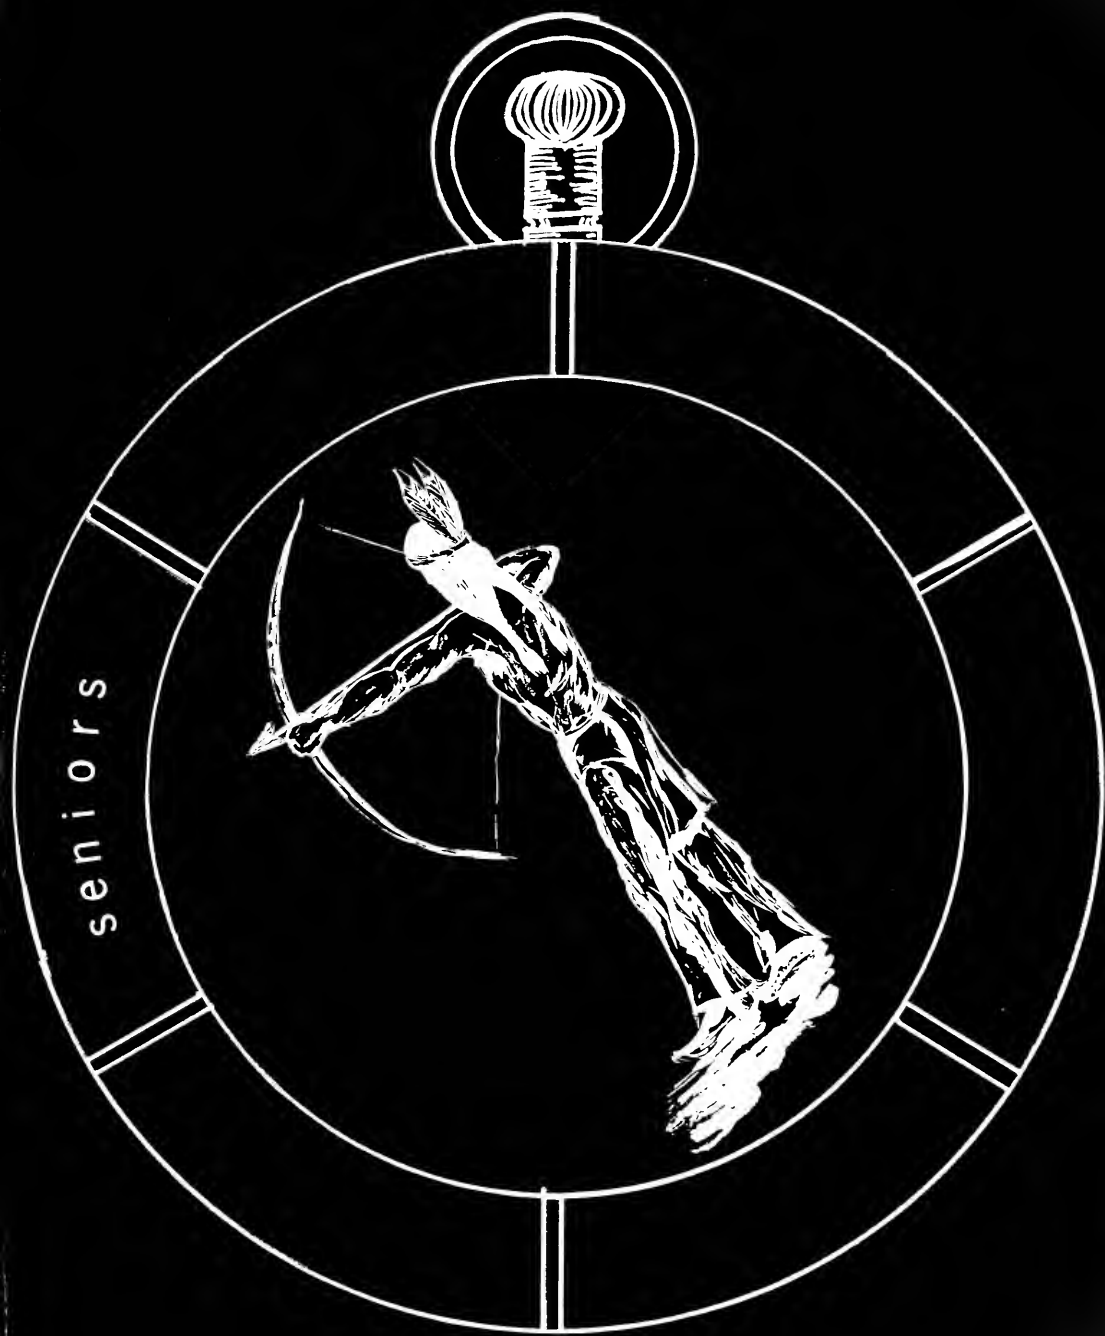

Dickie Zamora, selected by the junior and senior classes as King of "The Lost Continent of Atlantis," crowned Queen Evangeline Holguin.

Ronda Niblett, escorted by Craig Cooper, was one of the four princesses.

Well over 200 couples were guests of "The Lost Continent of Atlantis" as the Junior Class presented the 1970-71 prom. Elaborately staged in the auditorium, the theme was carried out with one wall completely covered in gold mirror foil, huge sea creatures and tumbling pillars. The centerpiece was a 20-foot ancient shipwreck in which live fish were swimming through each porthole and giant aquariums were set in the block on which it rested. Guests sat under a 60-foot purple coral reef covered with fish nets and danced among the eleven marble columns to the music of Storm, a group from Santa Fe. The court entered through the giant treasure chest maze for the grand march. Junior princesses were Mary Esther Trujillo escorted by Louis Quinones and Mary Esparza escorted by Alfred Perez. Senior princesses were Mary Ann Garcia escorted by Tommy Chavez and Ronda Niblett escorted by Craig Cooper. Reigning over the Sunken City were King Dickie Zamora and Queen of Atlantis: Evangeline Holguin.

Copper

It Just Hangs in There*

In other words, copper is indestructible, and it has been that way for more than 5,000 years.

The copper in your electric wiring, in your automobile, or in your radio and television sets may contain particles of copper mined 50 centuries ago by the Egyptians.

It's a fact that more than 65 percent of all the copper ever mined throughout the ages still is in circulation today. Most of the remaining 35 percent is just not accessible. It could be buried under other civilizations, or lying in sunken ships. Some, which was lightly alloyed with other metals, could have disintegrated.

Last year, copper recovered from scrap material accounted for more than 30 percent of the 3,125,000 tons of copper consumed in the United States. This scrap copper was re-melted and then rolled, extruded, cast or drawn into new products. Perhaps it will be around for another 5,000 years.

* In discussing waste control disposal of used products, a Western New Mexico University student suggested the idea for this advertisement.

ODD SYMBOLS BY ODD PEOPLE

If you think the above is actually a "peace symbol" designed to bring peace and harmony to the world, then you are as ignorant of the Communist conspiracy as they want you to be. And the Average American is just as naive.

It is an anti-Christ emblem known as the "broken cross," among other things. It is the Christian cross upside down with its arms broken. It is anti-Christ, anti-religion and anti-everything that is decent. It represents today's modern free lovers, pot smokers, degenerates and people who live worse than animals. It represents and is promoted by the Communists, although it goes back almost 2000 years. They claim that this "mark of the beast" was designed 2/21/58 by Bertrand Russell for an Easter "Peace" Walk in England and that it was taken from the semaphore letters "N" and "D," standing for Nuclear Disarmament.

The letter "D" does make a vertical line, but if the semaphore "N" was used with the "D," the two angled lines would have to start well above center. The letter "U" does have the broken arm effect but it is necessary to turn it up side down. Bertrand Russell was a Marxist from his earliest youth and said of the Russian Revolution, "The world is damnable. Lenin and Trotsky are the only bright spots." In 1931 he declared, "There is no hope in anything but the Soviet way." He was also a great admirer of Hitler—and with good reason. Hitler said, "Basically, National Socialism and Communism are the same." (2/5/41).

This Bertrand Russell, my fellow Americans, is the hippie hero of the "broken cross," not of the "peace emblem," because Lenin described, "As an ultimate objective, 'peace' simply means Communist world control."

The first "broken cross" was designed in 67 A.D. by the Emperor Nero. On it Simon Peter the Apostle was crucified upside down and burned.

In the Twentieth Century this same contemptible symbol was painted on the doors of churches closed by the Bolsheviks in Russia. This "broken cross" was branded on the dead bodies of Gypsies and Jews. It may be branded on your dead body if the decline of America continues. This nightmare of Communist take over is happening faster than the Communists ever dreamed.

The "V" sign made with the first two fingers has a "Satanic" meaning for many of the hard core Communists. The "gullible non-Communists," as the Reds call U.S., refer to it in all the news as a "peace sign." The younger revolutionary groups get their "V" from the name that they adopted for themselves, "Venceremos." In Spanish "Venceremos" means, "We will conquer." Winston Churchill's "V" didn't mean, "peace" or "surrender," it was an unmistakable "Victory"—Victory over the Nazi. To the U.S. it meant the same, as well as Victory over the Japanese. It is a sign used in war. It was then. It is now. Only now we are fighting a different kind of war and the New Left wants "Victory for the Reds."

These signs are what Lenin referred to as "that cursed 'Aesopian' language"—something with a dual meaning. Using the hammer and sickle would be too obvious even to the "gullible non-Communist." But would it? Many stupid Americans would say that it isn't the same hammer and sickle that the Russians use. Ridiculous?

What about the clenched fist? But let's hear it from the Communists themselves, starting with John Lautner, "The clenched fist salute has been used among revolutionaries for many centuries as a symbol of defiance, comradeship, and solidarity. . . it has been the official salute of all Communist Parties throughout the world." From the Lenin School of Political Warfare, Dimitry Z. Manuilsky said, "War is the hilt between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in twenty to thirty years. To win, we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoisie (middle-class) will have to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions. The Capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down—we shall smash them with our clenched fist."

A Year Gone By For Us At Last To See Progress

Through the past year, students know how much effort, how much sacrificing and anticipating they have put into school, as they reach their desires.

The great feeling of winning is distinct. Knowing the rules, and working together as a team, they have sought contentment in the heights of achievement.

Then there's the environment of deep thinking, quiet solitude, moments of friendships, friends in common effort.

Students learning, working side by side, striving for their goal . . . their happiness at graduation time. Feelings show through and new thoughts enter for the future.

Accomplishing a set goal is a great satisfaction. A yearbook and a newspaper are superior achievements of the hard efforts of dedicated people. They are the challenging experiences of imagination and enthusiasm.

These are all committed memories of a year gone by.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Putting a yearbook together takes the teamwork of a well-qualified staff. The 1971 staff is given credit for their contribution to the yearbook and to the school.

This year had been a challenging and a quite rewarding experience. I hope that the 1971 Chieftain will give you as much satisfaction, as it has to those who worked on it, and may it bring back lasting memories of a year gone by.

“SPECIAL THANKS”

Thanks seems like a small word for all the hard efforts and dedicated work that was put into the 1971 Chieftain. Though we can't find a more appropriate word we say THANKS to our sponsor Mrs. Catherine Smith, and Mr. Alex Paterson, consultant.

The 1971 Chieftain required the talents, skills and loyalty of other people to achieve its primary idea. Special thanks goes to Skip Walker and Mr. Darwin Bleak cover and division page designer and artist.
